

Personal Evangelism

Introduction. Near the end of Jesus earthly ministry, Jesus commissioned the apostles to preach the gospel to the world (Matt. 28: 18-20, Mk. 16: 15, 16, Luke 24: 47, 48). The Great Commission was the beginning of an organized effort to have the gospel preached to the populated world in the shortest amount of time (Acts 1: 8). In fact, in just twenty-six years the world had heard the Jerusalem gospel (Rom. 10: 18).

Do Christians today need to continue to teach others?

In Ephesians 4:11-12 we have the work of the church set forth. The work of the church is three-fold: Evangelism, Benevolence, and Edification. Now let's remember, the church is a divinely established and divinely organized institution (Ephesians 2:10). The church must be satisfied with doing what God authorized for her to do through His Word and nothing more.

The work of the church is an extension and continuation of the work of Christ. His mission was to seek and save the lost. That is still a work that the church must engage in today. Since individuals are saved by the gospel (Romans 1:16; 2 Thessalonians 2:13, 14), the work of the church is to preach the gospel (Acts 11:22-24; Philippians 4:15-17, 2:25; 2 Corinthians 11:8,9; 1 Thessalonians 1:7, 8).

These are all wonderful examples of local churches engaging in the action of evangelism. They were all evangelistic-minded. I like especially the last example of the brethren at Thessalonica. They didn't simply do evangelistic work by sending money to evangelist who were afar, they evangelized their own community by telling people they came into contact with about Jesus.

Reduce Reuse Recycle

To be good community members (and avoid being fined by the city)
we need to adjust how we dispose of unwanted items:

Recycle: Clean paper and cardboard should be put into a bin marked as recycle.
Our largest bin is in the Blue Class Room.

Deposits: Bottles and cans should be emptied and then put in the marked containers in the hallway next to the kitchen.

Compost: Food waste and coffee grounds should be put into the red plastic buckets. There is one in the kitchen and one in the office.

I would to God that we would ever try to emulate the church in Thessalonica and be actively involved in telling people about Jesus. Why isn't the church growing in some places? One reason is because we are neglecting to do the work of the church. We are keeping the gospel to ourselves, and that is not going save anyone. The gospel is meant to be spread (Matthew 28:19-20). If we truly believe in the gospel and its ability to save, we won't keep it to ourselves (2 Corinthians 4:13; James 1:21; Psalms 19:7).

This is what the parable of the sower is all about (Matthew 13:1-20). Of several lessons in this parable, one is vital: "Behold, a sower went out to sow". This is "the parable of the sower" (Matthew 13:18), not just the hearers. For both His disciples and the multitudes, Jesus taught a basic lesson about His kingdom: its establishment and growth would be accomplished through teaching. Why? Because faith cometh by the word of God (Romans 10:13-17). The church and individuals today have a responsibility to preach the same gospel (I Tim. 3: 15, Phili. 2: 16). Men and women are made disciples in precisely the same way today (Gal. 1: 6-9).
